999 West Saratoga Street is a multi-family building, west of the Edgar Allen Poe House, in the Poppleton neighborhood in west Baltimore, MD. The new 7-story age-restrictive building is the third to be developed as part of the large-scale redevelopment, CenterWest. The building will contain a residential lobby, amenities and 165-units, including ground floor maisonettes with landscaping. Buried in the center of the podium is a 2-level Parking structure. On top of the podium, connected to communal amenity space and gym are 2-elevated, landscaped courtyards facing the east and west.
